THE REGISTRAR GENERAL'S

WEEKLY RETURN FOR
ENGLAND AND WALES

BIRTHS AND DEATHS INFECTIOUS DISEASES WEATHER

Week Ended

Saturday, 7th January 1961

LONDON

HER MAJESTY'S STATIONERY OFFICE

PRICE 1s. 9d. NET

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return).

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

Note: The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

† The Local Offices of the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance were closed during the week ended 27th December for one or more days.

* See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Clear with frost early, but cloud slowly increasing thereafter with continuous rain commencing by mid-evening soon becoming heavy and persisting.

Monday—Cloudy with long periods of rain until early evening, temporary clearance then allowing shallow fog patches but turbulent cloud re-forming in late evening and giving heavy showers.

Tuesday—Variable cloud with heavy shower early, and frost around dawn. Slight rain in mid-evening. Good visibility.

Wednesday—Cloud slowly decreasing, but with isolated showers until mid-afternoon. Clear and frosty late.

Thursday—Clear with frost at first, but gradually increasing and heavy rain commencing in late evening, with freshening south westerly winds.

Friday—Cloud steadily decreasing and rain ceasing, to become clear by late evening with improving visibility.

Saturday—Mainly cloudy with slight frost early and period of continuous rain from early evening until end of period.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1009.5 mbs. at beginning of week to 978.3 mbs. at 22.15h. on 2nd, then rose to 1016.2 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

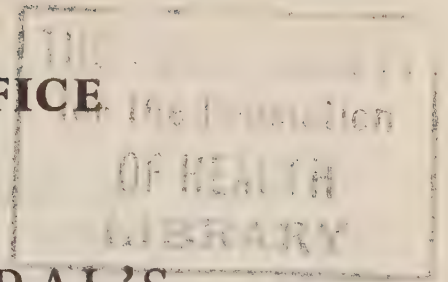

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return).

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

BIRTHS AND DEATHS registered in England and Wales in the Quarter ended 31st December, 1960, and in the year 1960, with comparative figures for three earlier years. (The customary analysis will appear in the Quarterly Return in due course).

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

†The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§There was one death from diphtheria: London.

¶Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1959.

† The Local Offices of the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance were closed during the week ended 27th December for one or more days.

* See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Rain quickly ceasing and sky clearing with temporary dew formation. Mainly small amounts of cloud during day with brief period of rain mid-evening.

Monday—Clear at first with general frost but cloud steadily advancing from around noon with long period of continuous rain from early afternoon until close of period.

Tuesday—Cloudy with rain ceasing early followed by isolated showers and further periods of rain. Sky clearing in early evening to leave frosty conditions.

Wednesday—Clear or small amounts of high cloud only with frost forming early evening and fog for a time until late.

Thursday—Cloud slowly increasing and milder conditions from south west.

Friday—Cloudy with drizzle commencing in mid-afternoon soon turning to rain and persisting.

Saturday—Cloudy at first, but sky clearing by dawn with brief formation of shallow fog. Variable amounts of cloud for remainder of period.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1004.0 mbs. at beginning of week to 1032.7 mbs. at 03.00h. on 12th, fell to 1028.3 mbs. at 14.30h. on 13th, then rose to 1040.0 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

PRICE 1s. 9d. NET

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return).

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

†The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1959.

† The Local Offices of the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance were closed during the week ended 27th December for one or more days.

* See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Tuesday—Cloud increasing and lowering with slight rain and drizzle during morning.

Wednesday—Cloudy with slight intermittent rain early morning, gradually becoming fair with sunny period until mid afternoon, later becoming cloudy. Cloud gradually dispersing by mid-evening. Winds South Easterly light to moderate.

Thursday—Cloudy with period of rain in early afternoon, and again in late evening when reaching heavy.

Friday—Cloudy generally with brief heavy rain early and moderate continuous rain late.

Saturday—Cloudy with periods of rain until mid-day and isolated shower early afternoon.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1038.7 mbs. at beginning of week to 1019.8 mbs. at 15.00h. on 16th, then rose to 1025.2 mbs. at 09.30h. on 18th, then fell to 1010.0 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

Note: The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

†The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

* See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy with variable fog or fog patches until early morning.

Monday—Cloudy throughout with slight rain briefly in evening and moderate shower late.

Tuesday—Cloudy generally with slight rain briefly in morning.

Wednesday—Cloudy at first, becoming fair with a period of sunshine, then cloudy by evening. Winds north-easterly at first veering to south-easterly by early afternoon.

Thursday—Cloudy at first, becoming fair with a period of sunshine, then cloudy by evening. Winds north-easterly at first veering to south-easterly by early afternoon.

Friday—Cloudy with long period of rain or drizzle until late afternoon. Sky then quickly clearing with shallow fog patches forming late and slight frost.

Saturday—Cloud rapidly increasing with long periods of rain, often heavy, until midday succeeded by frequent heavy showers until mid-evening.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1015·4 mbs. at beginning of week to 1002·0 mbs. at 03.30h. on 25th, then rose to 1023·3 mbs. at 20.45h. on 26th, then fell to 993·8 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

THE REGISTRAR GENERAL'S
WEEKLY RETURN FOR
ENGLAND AND WALES

BIRTHS AND DEATHS
INFECTIOUS DISEASES
WEATHER

Week Ended

Saturday, 4th February 1961

LONDON

HER MAJESTY'S STATIONERY OFFICE

PRICE 1s. 9d. NET

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

Note: The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

†The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

There were no deaths from diphtheria.

§Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy with continuous heavy rain from early evening.

Monday—Cloudy with heavy rain decreasing in intensity and soon ceasing. Very occasional breaks in mid-afternoon.

Tuesday—Variable convective cloud all day with violent thunderstorm accompanied by hail in early evening, with reaching whole gale force from south-west.

Wednesday—Generally cloudy with period of continuous rain, reaching heavy, during morning. Mock suns visible with halo phenomena in afternoon.

Thursday—Cloudy throughout with periods of continuous rain, some heavy, in morning. Scattered showers throughout afternoon.

Saturday—Cloudy throughout with period of moderate rain early and some good breaks in afternoon.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1008.7 mbs. at beginning of the week to 990.6 mbs. at 08.30h. on the morning of 2nd February, rose to 1015.7 mbs. at 19.00h. on 3rd, fell to 1002.2 mbs. at 05.30h. on 16th, then rose to 1013.1 mbs. at end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similar derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

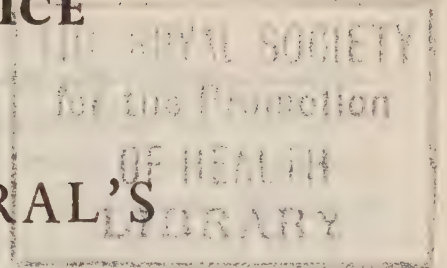

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

GENERAL REGISTER OFFICE

THE REGISTRAR GENERAL'S
WEEKLY RETURN FOR
ENGLAND AND WALES

BIRTHS AND DEATHS INFECTIOUS DISEASES WEATHER

Week Ended

Saturday, 11th February 1961

LONDON

HER MAJESTY'S STATIONERY OFFICE

PRICE 1s. 9d. NET

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

Note: The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy with long period of rain or dense drizzle until mid-morning, and further intermittent rain in mid afternoon and mid-evening.

Monday—Cloudy with slight rain in early morning, distant thunder and adjacent shower in mid-afternoon with slight local shower late afternoon. Strong south-westerly winds gusting to whole gale.

Tuesday—Sky clearing early and remaining clear until late afternoon when high cloud began progressive invasion from west, with low cloud advancing late in period.

Wednesday—Cloud lowering with long period of continuous moderate rain from early until near noon and succeeded by further shorter periods of drizzle until mid-evening.

Thursday—Cloudy at first, soon becoming fine with moderate to fresh south-westerly winds from late morning until early afternoon, then becoming cloudy. Excellent visibility during mid-afternoon.

Friday—Cloudy throughout with period of continuous slight drizzle during late morning. Light south-westerly wind later becoming moderate.

Saturday—Cloudy and mild with scattered showers in morning.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1013.5 mbs. at beginning of week to 993.5 mbs. at 09.30h. on 6th, rose to 1020.2 mbs. at 21.30h. on 7th, fell to 1014.9 mbs. at 15.15h. on 8th, rose to 1033.1 mbs. at 22.40h. on 9th, and fell to 1014.7 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

†The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§There were two deaths from diphtheria: Middlesex, Warwickshire.

¶Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy and mild throughout.

Monday—Cloudy and mild with slight haze late.

Tuesday—Cloud clearing and fog soon forming to become thick and persist until morning. Sunny afternoon and fine evening. Unusually warm.

Wednesday—Fog at first with intermittent then slight continuous drizzle, clearing by mid-morning, but remaining overcast throughout day, with intermittent light drizzle towards midnight. Winds mainly light southerly becoming easterly by mid-evening.

Thursday—Cloudy with intermittent light drizzle during early morning, becoming misty and overcast for remainder of day. Winds mainly light south-easterly.

Friday—Fog at first, clearing by mid-morning, becoming fair to cloudy, with haze or mist for most of the day, with fog forming by late evening. Visibility poor. Winds mainly light southerly.

Saturday—Cloudy with moderate fog until early morning, followed by short period of slight drizzle. Sky then slowly clearing with shallow fog patches forming late.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1022.0 mbs. at beginning of week to 1034.5 mbs. at 11.30h. on 16th, fell to 1029.3 mbs. at 16.00h. on 17th, and rose to 1038.3 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

LONDON

HER MAJESTY'S STATIONERY OFFICE

PRICE 1s. 9d. NET

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

E 1. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

Note: The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

*Includes influenzal pneumonias.

†The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Clear with moderate fog until dawn, slowly lifting into low stratus cloud and clearing by mid-morning. Intermittent drizzle very briefly early morning. Sunny afternoon but largely cloudy evening.

Monday—Generally cloudy and mild until evening when clearing skies allowed temporary fog formation associated with much smoke.

Wednesday—Generally cloudy but with large breaks in evening with smoke haze.

Friday—Cloudy generally with periods of rain, some reaching moderate, until early afternoon.

Saturday—Cloudy with periods of continuous rain, often heavy, until noon, succeeded by heavy showers. Cloud then partially breaking and continuing fine.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1038.3 mbs. at beginning of week to 1007.4 mbs. at 13.25h. on 25th, and rose to 1016.1 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

E I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

Note: The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

* The Abbreviated List numbers are those set out on pages 381-2 of the International Classification of Diseases, 1955. The further breakdown indicated by small letters after the numbers is one used in the General Register Office; the corresponding numbers in the full List are shown in brackets after the description of the causes.

TABLE IV. Notifications of Infectious Diseases in the

England and Wales. Administrative
Areas and Port Health Districts.

Note: Where no return has been received an asterisk * is inserted in the columns. Totals shown against the names of counties include any associated county boroughs. Letters in the "Others" column denote the diseases so lettered in the summary headings.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloud slowly increasing and lowering with periods of continuous rain from mid-afternoon, often heavy.

Monday—Cloudy at first with long period of continuous rain, often heavy, from early morning to close of period.

Tuesday—Cloud breaking to become clear until midday. Rapid increase ensuing with onset of periods of continuous rain.

Wednesday—Cloudy with rain ceasing by dawn. Continuing mainly cloudy but with some breaks.

Thursday—Variable amounts of cloud generally with isolated shower mid-morning.

Friday—Fog quickly forming and becoming thick around dawn, then lifting to leave mild and sunny conditions.

Saturday—Fog gradually thickening until around dawn then slowly lifting to clear by mid-morning. Warm and sunny day, but fog re-forming late.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1016.5 mbs. at beginning of week to 1015.7 mbs. at 22.15h. on 27th February then rose to 1038.9 mbs. at 10.00h. on 3rd March, and fell to 1036.8 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

THE REGISTRAR GENERAL'S
WEEKLY RETURN FOR
ENGLAND AND WALES

INFECTIOUS DISEASES
WEATHER

Week Ended

Saturday, 11th March 1961

LONDON

HER MAJESTY'S STATIONERY OFFICE

PRICE 1s. 9d. NET

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

 NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

E I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

Note: The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

* Includes influenzal pneumonia.

† The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡ The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§ There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶ Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Fog persisting until early morning, thick around dawn. Warm and sunny day. Fog reforming late.

Monday—Thick fog soon developing and persisting until dawn, then slowly lifting to clear by early morning. Warm and sunny day. Fine evening.

Tuesday—Becoming cloudy early and continuing dull and mild.

Wednesday—Cloud dispersing early allowing formation of fog, dense around dawn, and persisting until mid-morning. Warm and sunny day with fog reforming late.

Thursday—Thick fog at first, becoming moderate by mid-morning and persisting throughout day, becoming thick fog by early evening. Winds light north easterly.

Friday—Thick fog slowly dispersing to clear by mid-morning and leave warm day with some sunshine between varying cloud amounts.

Saturday—Cloudy and mild with exceptional visibility.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1038.2 mbs. at beginning of week to 1032.3 mbs. at 16.00h. on 6th, rose to 1038.5 mbs. by 09.00h. on 8th, fell to 1022.1 mbs. at 05.00h. on 10th, and rose to 1030.2 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

PRICE 1s. 9d. NET

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

A more detailed analysis of the deaths from accidents registered in the March Quarter, 1961, as a whole, will be published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return for the March Quarter.

I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

* Includes influenzal pneumonia.

† The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡ The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§ There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶ Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Overcast throughout, but continuing mild.

Monday—Cloudy generally with a few breaks in evening.

Tuesday—Cloudy at first, soon breaking to give sunny and very warm afternoon and evening.

Wednesday—Clear with a few shallow fog patches early, very warm afternoon with continuous sunshine and fine evening.

Saturday—Turbulent cloud quickly developing to give frequent showers, one heavy, during afternoon and evening. Rather cool.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1028.1 mbs. at beginning of week to 1022.9 mbs. at 16.30h. on 13th, rose to 1030.2 mbs. at 09.15h. on 15th, and fell to 1013.8 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

WEEKLY RETURN FOR
ENGLAND AND WALES

INFECTIOUS DISEASES
WEATHER

Week Ended

Saturday, 25th March 1961

LONDON

HER MAJESTY'S STATIONERY OFFICE

PRICE 1s. 9d. NET

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

* Includes influenzal pneumonia.

† The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡ The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§ There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶ Best available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1950.

* The Abbreviated List numbers are those set out on pages 381-2 of the International Classification of Diseases 1955. The further breakdown indicated by small letters after the numbers is one used in the General Register Office. The corresponding numbers in the full List are shown in brackets after the description of the causes.

TABLE IV. Notifications of Infectious Diseases in the

England and Wales. Administrative
Areas and Port Health Districts.

column denote the diseases so lettered in the summary headings.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Turbulent cloud soon breaking up in cold northerly airstream and giving slight hail shower near noon snow flurries in mid-afternoon.

Monday—Clear and frosty early but convective cloud forming in early morning to give snow shower followed occasional short periods of rain. Severe local flooding from Thames.

Tuesday—Cloudy with slight convection developing by noon and causing frequent slight showers until evening. Flood waters surrounding.

Wednesday—Cloudy with slight turbulence causing scattered showers, one moderate with hail, until early afternoon. Receding flood waters still present in surrounds.

Thursday—Cloud slowly dispersing to become clear by mid-evening. Becoming milder.

Friday—Mainly clear with sunny afternoon and fine evening.

Saturday—Shallow fog patches soon forming and merging into general fog by dawn, briefly thick, and clearing early morning. Mainly cloudy during afternoon, but clear in evening.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1024.4 mbs. at beginning of week to 1011.0 mbs. at 20.00h. on 20th, then to 1028.3 mbs. at 09.30h. on the 24th, and fell to 1023.9 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

* Includes influenzal pneumonia.

§ Numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

¶ Numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of East, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

* There were no deaths from diphtheria.

† Best available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1900.

TABLE III. Deaths (classified in accordance with the Abbreviated List* and at different age periods) registered in the week ended 1st April 1961, with totals from the first week of the year to date London A.C.

See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Soon becoming cloudy and continuing so with slight intermittent rain briefly in evening.

Monday—Generally cloudy with slight frost early.

Tuesday—Sunny day with small amounts of low cloud at times.

Wednesday—Cloudy throughout with periods of rain during morning and again in afternoon and evening.

Thursday—Mainly cloudy throughout with periods of rain until mid-afternoon succeeded by scattered showers.

Friday—Generally cloudy with slight dew early.

Saturday—Cloudy throughout with periods of rain and drizzle until near noon. Moderate showers developing through afternoon, but reverting to further rain in evening.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1023.9 mbs. to 1029.5 mbs. at 00.01h. on the 29th, then fell to 1008.7 at 15.30h. on 30th, rose to 1016.4 mbs. at 09.30h. on the 31st, then fell to 1010.2 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infant under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infant under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Number of Deaths and Death Rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer—1960

	NUMBER			RATE
	Males	Females	Persons	Males	Females	Person
Respiratory Tuberculosis	2,332	762	3,094	106	32	68
Other Tuberculosis	160	172	332	7	7	7

Maternal Mortality—1960

The provisional numbers of deaths and death rates per 1,000 total live and still births in England and Wales are:—

	Number	Ra
Maternal causes, excluding abortion,	248	0.2
Due to abortion	63	0.0
Total maternal mortality	311	0.2

Neonatal Mortality—1960

The deaths of infants under 4 weeks in England and Wales during 1960 numbered 12,180 representing a rate of 15.6 per 1,000 live births.

E I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

* Includes influenzal pneumonia.

† The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡ The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of fast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§ There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶ Best available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1900.

* The Abbreviated List numbers are those set out on pages 381-2 of the International Classification of Diseases 1955. The further breakdown indicated by small letters after the numbers is one used in the General Register Office; the corresponding numbers in the full List are shown in brackets after the description of the causes.

 umn denote the diseases so lettered in the summary headings.

The Local Offices of the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance were closed during the week ended 14th April for one or more days.

See Note (3).

- (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exact.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy with periods of rain early, and scattered showers until early afternoon.

Monday—Cloudy with long period of continuous rain, some heavy, from early morning until late afternoon. Moderate fog during afternoon and continuing misty until late evening when shallow fog patches formed.

Tuesday—Cloudy all day with shallow fog patches early, and long periods of rain, reaching heavy, or rain and drizzle frequently dense.

Wednesday—Cloudy with short periods of slight rain, followed by intermittent slight showers until early afternoon. Sky then gradually clearing with dew formation mid-evening.

Thursday—Variable amounts of cloud with very slight rain briefly late.

Friday—Cloudy throughout with base gradually lowering and continuous rain beginning in late afternoon, becoming moderate and persisting.

Saturday—Generally cloudy with very slight drizzle briefly mid-afternoon.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1010·3 mbs. at beginning of week to 995·9 mbs. at 09.30h. on 5th, and rose to 1021·3 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

LONDON

HER MAJESTY'S STATIONERY OFFICE

PRICE 1s. 9d. NET

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

* Includes influenzal pneumonia.

§ The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

¶ The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

* There was one death from diphtheria: Dublin.

† Best available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1900.

The Local Offices of the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance were closed during the week ended 4th April for one or more days.

* See Note (3).

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy at first with period of continuous rain throughout morning. Sky then slowly clearing with moderate fog forming in late evening.

Monday—Fog persisting until early morning, visibility then slowly improving until early evening, but then deteriorated again with onset of continuous rain, some heavy, until end of period.

Tuesday—Rain quickly ceasing and sky clearing, with fog forming during night to become briefly thick around dawn and clearing by early morning. Variable cloud amounts thereafter with temporary clearance late.

Wednesday—Generally cloudy with periods of rain or drizzle from near noon until late evening. Heavy showers in period.

Thursday—Convective cloud throughout with scattered showers and excellent visibility.

Friday—Convective cloud throughout with scattered showers and bright periods.

Saturday—Fog early, soon dispersing, visibility then slowly improving with variable amounts of cloud and a light shower late afternoon, becoming fine by mid-evening, with fog towards midnight.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1020.6 mbs. at beginning of week to 1006.7 mbs. at 15.00h. on 10th, rose to 1015.2 mbs. at 23.15h. on 11th, then fell to 1003.5 mbs. by 02.15h. on 14th, then rose to 1014.6 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower than the average."

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

BIRTHS AND DEATHS—ENGLAND AND WALES—MARCH QUARTER, 1961

Births and Deaths registered in England and Wales in the Quarter ended 31st March, 1961, with comparative figures for the First Quarters of three earlier years. (The customary analysis will appear in the Quarterly Return in due course.)

First Quarter of:—	LIVE BIRTHS		STILLBIRTHS		DEATHS		DEATHS OF INFANTS under 1 year

TABLE I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

Note: The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

¶The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

§The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

† The Local Offices of the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance were closed during the week ended 4th April for one or more days.

* See Note (3).

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Fog persisting until early morning, visibility improving to 4 miles by early afternoon with slight intermittent rain.

Monday—Mainly cloudy with periods of slight continuous rain and drizzle at first, with slight shower of rain towards midday, becoming fine by mid-evening.

Tuesday—Fog during night, clearing towards mid-morning. Variable amounts of cloud thereafter with visibility improving to 9 miles by early afternoon.

Wednesday—Mainly cloudy with periods of light to moderate showers during afternoon and evening, becoming light moderate continuous rain towards midnight.

Thursday—Generally cloudy with period of continuous moderate rain early morning, soon becoming continuous light ceasing before 1 a.m. Slight to moderate showers during late morning and continuous light to moderate rain and drizzle in evening. Excellent visibility during afternoon.

Friday—Cloudy at first with continuous rain until early morning, heavy at times, becoming fair by mid-afternoon. Excellent visibility throughout day.

Saturday—Cloudy throughout with long periods of rain, occasionally heavy, at outset and during afternoon. Isolated shower mid-morning.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1014.7 mbs. at beginning of week to 1019.9 mbs. by 09.00h. on 18th, and to 992.5 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower than the average."

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

Note: The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

†The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

The Local Offices of the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance were closed during the week ended 4th April for one or more days.

* See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Generally cloudy with scattered showers. Vigorous convection during afternoon giving slight hail. Go visibility.

Monday—Convective cloud soon developing, becoming vigorous during afternoon with isolated showers, and dissolving again by late evening.

Tuesday—Cloud slowly thickening and lowering with long period of continuous rain, often heavy, from mid-afternoon until late evening.

Wednesday—Rain ceasing early, but with further brief outbreak mid-morning. Continuing cloudy with convection during afternoon and early evening causing several showers.

Thursday—Cloudy throughout with slight convection during afternoon.

Friday—Cloudy all day with considerable haze.

Saturday—Cloudy generally but partial clearance around dusk permitting temporary formation of isolated shallow patches.

The reading of the barometer rose from 992.7 mbs. at beginning of week to 1010.3 mbs. at 22.30h. on 24th, then fell 995.1 mbs. at 02.00h. on 26th, and rose to 1015.8 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.
- Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)
- Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

E I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

Note: The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

* Includes influenzal pneumonia.

† The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡ The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§ There was one death from diphtheria: Dublin.

¶ Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

See Note (3).

(1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy throughout with frequent periods of slight rain from early afternoon.

Monday—Cloudy throughout with isolated shower mid-morning and long period of rain and drizzle, turning to rain becoming heavy, from early to late evening.

Tuesday—Vigorous turbulence rapidly building up to give frequent heavy showers from early morning to late eve. A heavy thunderstorm with moderate hail occurred in mid-afternoon, and two further thunderstorms in early and mid-evening. Adjacent and distant thunder was frequently heard.

Wednesday—Cloudy with isolated slight showers and periods of slight rain late.

Thursday—Cloudy with periods of rain and drizzle until noon, succeeded by showers in afternoon. A heavy thunderstorm took place during the evening and a further shower late. Distant lightning was frequently observed to the East.

Friday—Mainly cloudy until mid-evening, with isolated showers, one heavy, during afternoon. Becoming clear late evening.

Saturday—Cloud quickly spreading and towering with period of continuous rain, or rain and drizzle from mid-afternoon to mid-evening.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1015.4 mbs. at beginning of week to 1002.8 mbs. at 24.00h. on 1st, to 1008.9 mbs. at 18.15h. on 3rd, fell to 1001.6 mbs. at 21.00h. on 4th, then rose to 1014.8 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

Note: The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

* See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy at first, but with sunny periods in afternoon and early evening.

Monday—Mainly small amounts of cloud with sunny periods in afternoon.

Tuesday—Cloudy or partly cloudy throughout, with isolated slight showers in mid-evening.

Wednesday—Slight shower at outset, followed by mainly sunny day and fine evening.

Thursday—Clear early, sunny and warm during day, fine evening.

Saturday—Mainly small amounts of upper cloud. Very warm.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1013.0 mbs. at beginning of week to 1034.4 mbs. at 24.00h. on 10th, then fell to 1015.0 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similar to that derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

THE REGISTRAR GENERAL'S
WEEKLY RETURN FOR
ENGLAND AND WALES

INFECTIOUS DISEASES
WEATHER

Week Ended

Saturday, 20th May 1961

LONDON

HER MAJESTY'S STATIONERY OFFICE

PRICE 1s. 9d. NET

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

†The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

* See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloud rapidly spreading and lowering giving dull conditions generally, but remaining rather warm.

Wednesday—Becoming cloudy by dawn with sporadic slight showers in early afternoon and clearing again by evening.

Thursday—Mainly small amounts of high based convective cloud giving large sunny periods and clear evening.

Friday—Becoming generally cloudy and remaining dull.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1014.7 mbs. at beginning of week to 1028.1 mbs. at 10.00h. on 18th, then fell to 1018.2 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

Note: The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

The Local Offices of the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance were closed during the week ended 23rd May for one or more days.

* See Note (3).

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy or overcast early evening when progressive clearance gave clear skies late.

Monday—Clear and sunny until early evening when low cloud slowly invaded the sky to become overcast late.

Tuesday—Cloudy throughout with high level instability producing very slight shower near noon.

Wednesday—Generally cloudy with slight high level instability.

Thursday—Cloudy, with slight haze.

Friday—Cloudy, but with exceptional visibility.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1021.0 mbs. at beginning of week to 1013.9 mbs. at 16.30h. on 25th, then rose to 1022.8 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

Week Ended

Saturday, 3rd June 1961

LONDON

HER MAJESTY'S STATIONERY OFFICE

PRICE 1s. 9d. NET

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

LE I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

Note: The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

§The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

¶The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

There were no deaths from diphtheria.

Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

The Local Offices of the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance were closed during the week ended 23rd May for one or more days.

* See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloud increasing and becoming unstable to give isolated showers during afternoon with distant thunder. L patches of layer cloud persisting.

Monday—Cloudy but becoming warmer.

Tuesday—Cloud slowly clearing throughout to become nil by mid-evening.

Wednesday—Clear at first but high cloud completely veiling the sky during afternoon. Clear evening but low cloud sheet spreading quickly late in period.

Thursday—Overcast all day with low stratus cloud. Continuous drizzle, some dense, or rain and drizzle, some heavy from early morning until near close. Temperatures were the lowest for forty-five years at Kew.

Friday—Low cloud clearing before dawn and only small patches of convective cloud throughout day with considerable upper cloud at times.

Saturday—Slowly increasing cloud sheet covering sky by evening. Warm and hazy.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1021.8 mbs. at beginning of week to 1002.9 mbs. at 16.30h. on 31st, and rose to 1019.2 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower than the average."

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

THE REGISTRAR GENERAL'S
WEEKLY RETURN FOR
ENGLAND AND WALES

INFECTIOUS DISEASES
WEATHER

Week Ended

Saturday, 10th June 1961

LONDON

HER MAJESTY'S STATIONERY OFFICE

PRICE 1s. 9d. NET

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

E I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

¶The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

§The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

There were no deaths from diphtheria.

Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

The Local Offices of the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance were closed during the week ended 23rd May for one or more days.

See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Continuing cloudy, warm and hazy, with shallow fog patches late.

Monday—Cloud clearing early with shallow fog patches merging into moderate fog around dawn. Cloud sheet slowly re-forming to give warm and hazy day.

Tuesday—Cloud clearing early but re-forming by noon and continuing cloudy, warm and a little hazy.

Wednesday—Cloudy with a few drops of rain in morning. Rather warm.

Thursday—Cloudy with period of continuous rain, some heavy, from outset until near dawn. Vigorous turbulence commencing and causing scattered showers until evening. Two slight local thunderstorms occurred in the afternoon.

Friday—Generally partly cloudy. Warm with excellent visibility.

Saturday—Cloudy with exceptional visibility until evening, when short periods of rain or drizzle occurred.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1020.7 mbs. at beginning of week to 1009.5 mbs. at 15.00h. on the 8th, rose to 1016.5 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

* Includes influenzal pneumonia.

† The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡ The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§ There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶ Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

* The Abbreviated List numbers are those set out on pages 381-2 of the International Classification of Diseases 1955. The further breakdown indicated by small letters after the numbers is one used in the General Register Office. The corresponding numbers in the full List are shown in brackets after the description of the causes.

TABLE IV. Notifications of Infectious Diseases in the week ended 17th June 1961

England and Wales. Administrative
Areas and Port Health Districts.

column denote the diseases so lettered in the summary headings.

* See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy throughout with very slight rain before dawn and slight shower in morning.

Monday—Briefly clear early but soon becoming cloudy and base progressively lowering with onset of long period of rain, some heavy, from near noon to close of period.

Tuesday—Cloudy at first with rain soon dying out. Variable amounts of cloud thereafter with good visibility and sunny intervals.

Wednesday—Cloudy or partly cloudy with sunny periods. Warm.

Thursday—Cloudy throughout with slight instability causing isolated showers afternoon and evening.

Saturday—Cloudy at first with base progressively lowering and becoming overcast by noon.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1012·7 mbs. at beginning of week to 1001·3 mbs. at 00.01h. on 13th, and to 1019·4 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I and II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notification are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infant under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infant under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

§The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

¶The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

There were no deaths from diphtheria.

†Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

* See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Overcasts with periods of rain and drizzle, some dense, until mid-morning. Cloud then breaking to give afternoon and fine evening.

Monday—Clear at first with well broken convective cloud slowly developing, giving sunny afternoon and evening. Becoming clear again late. Exceptional visibility in warm westerly airstream.

Tuesday—Well broken cloud with long sunny periods. Continuing warm and dry.

Wednesday—Cloud tending to increase, but with long sunny periods and continuing warm.

Thursday—Cloudy at first, with isolated showers around dawn, tending to decrease thereafter with sunny periods. Continuing warm.

Friday—Considerable high cloud at times, but with practically continuous sunshine during day. Continuing very warm.

Saturday—Clear at first with fog patches developing around dawn, merging temporarily into general moderate cloud. Remainder of day clear and hot.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1015.1 mbs. at beginning of week to 1029.6 mbs. at 06.40h. on 20th, fell to 1018.6 mbs. at 15.00h. on 22nd, and rose to 1022.7 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Borough of Westminster; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Clear and hot.

Monday—Generally cloudy with sporadic rain in morning and periods of rain, some heavy, in afternoon and evening becoming progressively cooler.

Tuesday—Rain soon dying out and cloud breaking to give sunny day and fine evening.

Wednesday—Considerable upper cloud generally with smaller amounts of convective cloud during afternoon. Becoming warm.

Saturday—Patches of unstable layer cloud at times, but with long sunny periods. Continuing hot.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1019.2 mbs. at beginning of week to 1006.7 mbs. at 18.20h. on 26th, rose to 1029.2 mbs. at 09.00h. on 28th, then fell to 1019.7 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similar to that derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notification are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infant under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infant under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

* Includes influenzal pneumonia.

† The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡ The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§ There was one death from diphtheria: Staffordshire.

|| Best available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1900.

- (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Clear and very warm at outset, but rapidly increasing humidity bringing heavy unstable cloud by dawn slight rain by morning. A thunderstorm, briefly heavy, with small hail, developed around noon. Further scattered outbreaks of thundery rain fell in afternoon and evening. Becoming less warm.

Monday—Generally cloudy, but more stable and becoming cooler.

Friday—Generally cloudy, but warm with excellent visibility.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1019.9 mbs. at beginning of week to 1028.7 mbs. at 08.00h. on 3rd, fell to 1017.6 mbs. at 00.30h. on 4th, then rose to 1025.7 mbs. at 09.30h. on 6th, and fell to 1018.2 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Borough; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Generally cloudy but breaking to give sunny evening and reforming late.

Monday—Cloudy throughout with sporadic slight rain in evening. Warm and humid.

Tuesday—Continuing cloudy with heavy shower in morning. Unlimited visibility.

Wednesday—Overcast with long period of rain, briefly heavy from dawn until near noon. Partial clearance then brought by frequent showers, one heavy, from evening until close of period.

Thursday—Frequent showers at outset to continuous rain from dawn to morning. Some sunny periods during day and fine evening, but showers developing again at end of period.

Friday—Cloud increasing with outbreaks of heavy rain, and showers from near noon until late in period. Fresh southerly winds gusting to fresh gale force. Excellent visibility.

Saturday—Convective cloud at first, developing vigorous turbulence by early afternoon and giving frequent thunderstorms, some heavy, until late evening, followed by further showers until close of period.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1019.4 mbs. at beginning of week to 990.6 mbs. at 23.45h. on 12th, rose to 1002.1 mbs. at 18.15h. on 13th, fell to 995.9 mbs. at 17.40h. on 14th, then rose to 997.3 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Includes influenzal pneumonia.

The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

There were no deaths from diphtheria.

Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Moderate shower early, followed by periods of continuous rain, briefly heavy, from near dawn until afternoon. Continuing dull and cool.

Monday—Cloudy at first with isolated showers until noon. Slow decrease thereafter to become briefly clear late.

Tuesday—Soon becoming cloudy with isolated shower in evening.

Wednesday—Considerable cloud generally, but with sunny periods in early evening.

Friday—Cloudy with isolated showers in evening and considerable smoke haze.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1004.2 mbs. at beginning of week to 1016.0 mbs. at 13.00h. on 17th, fell to 1013.7 mbs. at 18.30h. on 18th, then rose to 1022.2 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

†The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Variable amounts of convective cloud breaking temporarily late.

Wednesday—Low cloud increasing steadily until early morning then slowly clearing again. Very slight rain mid-morning. Patches of upper cloud persisting.

Thursday—Cloudy throughout with slight rain around dawn and again in evening. Continuous rain set in late evening.

Friday—Overcast at outset with period of continuous rain, some heavy, during the early hours. Cloud lifting throughout and then slowly breaking with isolated shower in early morning. Becoming clear by late evening.

Saturday—Becoming cloudy at dawn and continuing so until mid-evening when sky became clear. Rather cool.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1022.1 mbs. at beginning of week to 1026.8 mbs. at 08.00h. on 24th, fell to 1005.7 mbs. at 04.30h. on 28th, and rose to 1023.3 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similar to that derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

HER MAJESTY'S STATIONERY OFFICE

PRICE 1s. 9d. NET

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

Note 3.

- 1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- 2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- 3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

Hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of Kew the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

Amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Becoming cloudy by dawn but then slowly clearing again to nil by late evening.

Monday—Clear at first with small amounts of convective cloud during afternoon and much high cloud late.

Tuesday—Soon becoming cloudy and increasing convection by mid-afternoon. Vigorous turbulence commencing evening brought a severe thunderstorm at near end of period during which violent rainfall occurred, and continued to close of period.

Wednesday—Thunderstorm soon ceasing and the day was cloudy and dry excepting a very slight shower very in early afternoon.

Thursday—Cloudy with fresh sou'westerly winds. Continuous very slight rain from mid-afternoon to evening and mitterly in late evening.

Friday—Cloudy with intermittent rain early becoming intermittent light drizzle then light showers for remainder. Moderate sou'westerly winds. Excellent visibility during morning.

Saturday—Cloudy with long periods of continuous rain from outset until morning, recommencing quickly and until noon. Continuing cloudy with fresh to strong sou'westerly winds.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1023.9 mbs. at beginning of week to 1016.0 mbs. at 19.30h. on 1st, 1024.6 mbs. at 08.20h. on 3rd, then fell to 1007.5 mbs. at end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the week ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — indicates "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

§ The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

¶ The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

There were no deaths from diphtheria.

† Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

* See Note 3.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

§ Figures not available.  Estimated for 8th, 9th and 10th August.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy with moderate to heavy showers until early afternoon. Heavy thundery rainfall fell during mid-afternoon, succeeded by further isolated slight shower.

Monday—Clear early with variable cloud and sunny intervals during day with excellent visibility.

Tuesday—Overcast with long period of continuous rain, often heavy, from outset to near dawn. Continuing cloudy with south-westerly winds reaching strong gale force and scattered moderate showers.

Wednesday—Considerable cloud generally with excellent visibility and moderating wind strength.

Thursday—Cloud increasing steadily with adjacent thunder by noon, scattered showers in afternoon, and long period of thundery rain from stagnant medium cloud from early evening until close of period.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1008.3 mbs. at beginning of week to 1014.1 mbs. at 08.30h. on 7th, fell to 995.5 mbs. on 8th, rose to 1025.1 mbs. at 11.00h. on 12th, fell to 1023.9 mbs. at end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

†The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

† The Local Offices of the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance were closed during the week ended 8th August for one or more days.

*See Note 3.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Variable cloud throughout with slight showers early and brief periods of rain around noon and in mid-evening.
Monday—Cloudy throughout with short periods of slight rain until noon.
Tuesday—Cloudy with slight rain near dawn and heavy shower in morning.
Wednesday—Cloudy throughout with slight rain in early afternoon.
Thursday—Cloudy early but steadily decreasing to become clear by mid-evening.
Friday—Cloudy generally with slight showers in early morning.
Saturday—Cloudy until late evening with scattered showers.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1023.9 mbs. at beginning of week to 1013.7 mbs. at 17.30h. on the 16th, rose to 1020.6 mbs. at 12.45h. on the 17th, and fell to 1007.5 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

†The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Clear at first but becoming cloudy by dawn and continuing so.

Monday—Cloudy with rain periods soon commencing and becoming heavy, reaching violent near noon briefly. Sky then largely clearing and continuing fine with fresh westerly winds and unlimited visibility.

Tuesday—Soon becoming cloudy and continuing so with isolated shower in early afternoon.

Wednesday—Mainly cloudy but low cloud dispersing during evening.

Thursday—Soon becoming cloudy with rain period, sometimes heavy, from dawn to mid-morning. Showers developing in early afternoon and becoming violent, ceasing early evening. Temporary clearance then allowed formation of fog, briefly thick, but tending to lift into low stratus at extreme end of period.

Friday—Overcast with moderate fog early breaking into general cloudiness by dawn and continuing so with steadily improving visibility.

Saturday—Cloudy with short periods of rain or drizzle, breaking by noon but with isolated shower in evening.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1019.6 mbs. at beginning of week to 1007.8 mbs. at 19.15h. on 21st, rose to 1021.4 mbs. at 10.00h. on 23rd, fell to 1015.8 mbs. at 24.00h. on 25th, then rose to 1020.2 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

* Includes influenzal pneumonia.

§ The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

¶ The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

... where there were no deaths from diphtheria.

... latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

The Local Offices of the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance were closed during the week ended 8th August for one or more days.

* See Note 3.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly. Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Monday—Clear and warm throughout with isolated shallow local fog patches late.

Tuesday—Clear and very warm throughout. A little hazy early.

Wednesday—Some wisps of high cloud, otherwise clear and very warm.

Thursday—Clear and very warm with slight haze early and late.

Friday—Becoming overcast with low stratus early, breaking around dawn and continuing very warm and hazy.

Saturday—Fog quickly forming, to become thick and persist until mid-morning. Central period of day very bright with some sunshine penetrating in afternoon, but fog quickly closing in at dusk, becoming thick and persisting. Still very warm and humid.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1020.6 mbs. at beginning of week to 1027.6 mbs. at 09.00h. on 28th, fell to 1013.4 mbs. at 19.15h. on 29th, rose to 1028.4 mbs. at 08.15h. on 31st, and fell to 1013.6 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I. Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

†The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

*See Note 3.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Thick fog persisting until early morning. Unstable layer cloud brought frequent thunder and brief period thundery rain in morning and slight thunderstorm in afternoon. The evening continued warm and sultry with much haze.

Monday—Overcast throughout with poor visibility and brief period of rainfall in morning, then drizzle in evening.

Tuesday—Cloudy throughout with improving visibility and shower late in evening.

Wednesday—Mainly cloudy with excellent visibility and isolated showers. Rather cool.

Thursday—Very slight shower early, remainder of day fine with sunny periods.

Friday—Cloudy throughout with haze late.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1014.5 mbs. at beginning of week to 1001.5 mbs. at 20.00h. on 6th, and to 1024.5 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower than the average."

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

See Note 3.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0·04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25·4 millimetres exactly. Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Variable cloud amounts with fog patches around dawn and very slight rain briefly mid-evening.

Monday—Generally large amounts of cloud with very short period of rain, briefly heavy, in mid-evening.

Tuesday—Mainly cloudy with intermittent slight rain during late morning and afternoon. Excellent visibility du afternoon.

Wednesday—Cloudy with drizzle and rain, becoming moderate to heavy continuous rain from outset until mid-morn then light to heavy showers during afternoon and early evening.

Thursday—Cloudy with rain period soon commencing, becoming heavy at times, clearing before mid-morning. S becoming fair with sunshine during remainder of morning and afternoon. Visibility excellent during afternoon.

Friday—Cloudy with light to moderate continuous drizzle from morning until early evening. Winds South-West with gusts greater than 33 knts. at times during morning.

Saturday—Warm and sunny with strong winds during late morning and afternoon, becoming cloudy by late aftern and intermittent light rain in late evening. Frequent gusts to gale force 10.15h.—16.00h. (South-Westerly).

The reading of the barometer fell from 1022.9 mbs. at beginning of week to 1013.6 mbs. at 16.30h. on 11th, rose 1016.3 mbs. at 09.00h. on 12th, fell to 1002.5 mbs. at 16.00h. on 13th, rose to 1014.9 mbs. at 00.01h. on 15th, and fell 1003.7 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in colu 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values deri from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 ye ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is simil derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "low than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bri sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in colou 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

* Includes influenzal pneumonia.

§ The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

¶ The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

‡ There were no deaths from diphtheria.

§ Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

See Note 3.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy with light to moderate continuous rain, with drizzle at times, from early morning until mid-afternoon.
Monday—Fine sunny day with small amounts of cloud during evening.
Tuesday—Fog at first, quickly dispersing, becoming fair then cloudy. Excellent visibility during afternoon.
Wednesday—Cloudy with light to moderate continuous rain from early morning, ceasing before mid-morning intermittent slight rain during afternoon. Fog late.
Friday—Fog early, quickly dispersing, becoming fair to fine with bright periods.
Saturday—Cloudy with fog early, quickly dispersing. Poor visibility with haze and mist for remainder of day, forming again shortly before midnight.
The reading of the barometer rose from 1013.1 mbs. at beginning of week to 1021.8 mbs. at 07.00h. on 18th, fell to 1011.8 mbs. at 04.15h. on 19th, rose to 1025.2 mbs. at 09.00h. on 22nd, and fell to 1019.4 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.
Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.
The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.
The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).
The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.
The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

* Includes influenzal pneumonia.

§ The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

¶ The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

... There were no deaths from diphtheria.

... latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

- (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly. Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Monday—Shallow fog patches early, lifting by dawn. Variable cloud amounts during daylight hours. Fog p forming in late evening, slowly merging into general moderate fog.

Wednesday—Quickly becoming overcast with long period of rain, sometimes heavy, from dawn to early after Clearance following this, gave sunny afternoon and shallow fog patches in late evening before cloud again encroache

Thursday—Cloudy with heavy showers until noon and continuing partly cloudy.

Friday—Variable cloud with sunny intervals.

Saturday—Cloudy generally with light drizzle briefly in morning and isolated heavy shower in early afternoon.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1020.3 mbs. at beginning of week to 1027.3 mbs. at 10.00h, on 25th, 1002.6 mbs. at 12.00h, on 28th, rose to 1012.4 mbs. at 09.00h, on 29th, and fell to 1002.9 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in co 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values d from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is aln derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "l than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in co 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infant under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infant under one year of age—about the third week in January.
Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

* Includes influenzal pneumonia.

§ The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

§ The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

There were no deaths from diphtheria.

† Best available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly. Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy at first with periods of rain, some heavy, until dawn. Slight turbulence then brought scattered sh until mid-morning. Mainly clear thereafter.

Monday—Clear early with small amounts of convective cloud until early evening. Shallow fog patches formed time late.

Tuesday—Cloudy throughout with brief periods of slight rain until noon.

Wednesday—Cloudy throughout with rain commencing mid-afternoon, soon becoming continuous and persisting end of period.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1008.9 mbs. at beginning of week to 1019.4 mbs. at 09.00h. on 2nd, an to 999.2 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern o barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in co 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values de from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is am derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "l than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of t sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in col. 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notification are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

more detailed analysis of the deaths from accidents registered in the September Quarter, 1961, as a whole, will be published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return for the September Quarter.

E 1. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

: The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia) notification is believed to be incomplete.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. Only comparatively small sections of the working population are excluded, the most numerous being those employed married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Mainly cloudy with period of rain early and isolated shower in afternoon. Becoming clear late.

Monday—Mainly cloudy and mild.

Wednesday—Variable amounts of cloud becoming clear mid-evening with fog patches developing late, soon merging into general fog, becoming thick, and persisting.

Thursday—Thick fog becoming thick wet fog before dawn and obscuring the sky for a short while, then clearing very rapidly mid-morning to leave warm and sunny afternoon. Fine evening with isolated very shallow fog patches briefly late.

Friday—Mainly small amounts of cloud with sunny afternoon and fine evening. Fog patches developing late quickly merging into general fog and becoming thick.

Saturday—Thick fog lifting around dawn leaving clear skies. Warm sunny afternoon and fine evening. Fog patches forming late slowly merging into general fog and becoming thick at extreme end of period.

The reading of the barometer rose from 995.1 mbs. at beginning of week to 1032.1 mbs. at 22.10h. on 12th. and fell to 1027.3 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similar to that derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3 million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 2½ million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0·04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25·4 millimetres exactly. Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Thick fog, wet during morning, obscuring the sky until noon. Fog persisting until late evening with layer low stratus cloud sometimes visible. Wet fog reforming at end of period and persisting.

Monday—Wet fog lifting early into low stratus cloud under the influence of freshening south-westerly wind. Remain of period generally cloudy.

Tuesday—Overcast until mid-morning with periods of continuous rain. Continuing cloudy and cool with freshen and backing westerly winds gusting frequently to fresh gale. Isolated showers during early afternoon.

Wednesday—Variable cloud amounts with excellent visibility and scattered showers. Continuing rather cold with fr north westerly winds gusting to whole gale force.

Thursday—Cloudy with slight rain briefly around noon succeeded by light showers until late afternoon.

Friday—Cloudy with long period of continuous rain from outset until noon and further brief outbreak mid-evening.

Saturday—Mainly cloudy with isolated showers and brief rain periods late.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1027.0 mbs. at beginning of week to 993.4 mbs. at 19.40h. on 17th, rose 1000.5 mbs. at 22.00h. on 18th, fell to 996.4 mbs. at 07.00h. on 20th, then rose to 1009.1 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similar derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in column 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

†The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3 million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 2½ million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy with periods of rain and drizzle during morning and isolated shower in afternoon.

Monday—Variable amounts of turbulent cloud, often small, with isolated showers during afternoon. Unlimited visibility in fresh south-westerly airstream.

Tuesday—Overcast throughout with heavy shower early and long period of continuous rain, some heavy, from dawn until late afternoon, followed by intermittent slight rain. Continuous rain, again heavy, recommencing in late evening. Fresh south-westerlies persisting.

Wednesday—Becoming clear around dawn but convection soon commencing and quickly becoming vigorous. A heavy thunderstorm occurred in the afternoon, followed by a heavy hail shower and further heavy showers until late evening. Continuous rain began late in period and persisted. Strong south-westerly winds gusting to fresh gale.

Thursday—Generally cloudy with slight rain at outset followed by frequent showers, one heavy, and a brief period of slight rain in late evening. Strong southerly winds gusting to whole gale.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1007.6 mbs. at beginning of week to 1012.8 mbs. at 20.55h. on 23rd, fell to 993.4 mbs. at 00.01h. on 27th, and rose to 1007.5 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

†The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3 million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 2½ million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Thick fog obscuring sky, slowly lifting to give cloudy afternoon, but fog reforming in early evening and soon becoming thick.

Monday—Thick fog obscuring sky until mid-morning, then lifting rather quickly to give sunny afternoon with excellent visibility. Cloud increasing and lowering during remainder of period.

Tuesday—Very variable cloud amounts throughout with good visibility and very brief periods of rain late.

Wednesday—Clear early with brief period of fog, but cloud progressively increasing with very brief rain, and continuing cloudy. Very mild.

Thursday—Variable amounts of cloud, often small, with some sunny periods. Isolated slight showers in mid-evening.

Friday—Cloud increasing early with period of continuous rain, some heavy, ceasing before dawn. Sky then clear but with very slight shower near noon.

Saturday—Completely clear throughout with continuous sunshine from dawn to dusk and excellent visibility.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1007.8 mbs. at beginning of week to 1025.7 mbs. at 09.00h. on 1st, then to 1011.0 mbs. at 01.30h. on 3rd, and rose to 1031.4 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

†The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

* See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3 million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 2½ million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloud sheet spreading early from south-west and continuing cloudy and milder all day.

Monday—Cloudy throughout with periods of intermittent rain in morning. A long period of rain, turning to drizzle, commenced in late afternoon and persisted.

Tuesday—Cloudy with long period of rain and drizzle until early morning.

Wednesday—Overcast with period of continuous rain, some heavy, until dawn. Continuing cloudy with very slight rain briefly during morning.

Thursday—Clearing early with fog forming and becoming thick around dawn. Sunny during afternoon but fog reforming late in period.

Friday—Overcast with fog, briefly thick early, until midday. Continuous rain, mainly moderate but sometimes associated with drizzle, began in early morning and persisted for the entire period.

Saturday—Overcast with very long period of continuous rain, occasionally heavy, from outset until late afternoon, then rapidly clearing with freshening northerly winds and improving visibility.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1026.9 mbs. at beginning of week to 991.3 mbs. at 12.00h. on 8th and rose to 1007.0 mbs by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

* Includes influenzal pneumonia.

† The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡ The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§ There were no deaths from diphtheria.

|| Best available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

See Note (3).

(1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3 million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 2½ million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Clear at first with variable amounts of cloud during day and sheet of low cloud entering late in period.

Monday—Cloudy with long periods of rain and drizzle throughout. Good visibility in moderate gale force gusting to strong gale.

Wednesday—Cloudy throughout with slight rain and drizzle ceasing before dawn.

Thursday—Generally cloudy with much smoke haze sharply reducing visibility in stagnant air mass. Very slight clearing briefly early.

Friday—Cloudy throughout with smoke haze and very slight drizzle briefly noon.

Saturday—Cloudy throughout.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1009.3 mbs. at beginning of week to 1005.8 mbs. at 05.00h. on 13th, rose to 1021.9 mbs. at 23.00h. on 15th, fell to 1020.6 mbs. at 14.40h. on 16th, rose to 1022.2 mbs. at 09.30h. on 17th, and fell to 1019.3 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the period ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

* Includes influenzal pneumonia.

§ The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

¶ The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

There was one death from diphtheria: Devon.

† Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

* The Abbreviated List numbers are those set out on pages 381-2 of the International Classification of Diseases, 1955. The further breakdown indicated by small letters after the numbers is one used in the General Register Office; the corresponding numbers in the full List are shown in brackets after the description of the causes.

Note: Where no return has been received an asterisk * is inserted in the columns. Totals shown against the names of counties include any associated county boroughs. Letters in the "Others" column denote the diseases so lettered in the summary headings.

* See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3 million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 2½ million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy throughout with some haze.

Tuesday—Considerable high cloud at times with slight ground frost early. Moderate fog developed very brief morning and visibility throughout was sharply reduced by smoke haze.

Wednesday—Clear with slight ground frost early. Radiation fog very briefly thick, formed around dawn and refo for a very short while mid-morning. Cloud then progressively increased until end of period. Milder.

Thursday—Cloud steadily decreasing with long sunny periods in afternoon. Clear evening with moderate fog and air frost.

Friday—Clear with frost and moderate fog early. Gradually becoming cloudy with improving visibility and remainin

Saturday—Cloudy at first with unlimited visibility. Temporary clearance in mid-evening permitted the formatio fog, thick for a time, and associated during this period with frost.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1020.7 mbs. at beginning of week to 1026.2 mbs. at 09.10h. on 20th, then to 1010.4 mbs. at 23.50h. on 22nd, rose to 1018.3 mbs. at 10.00h. on 24th, and fell to 1008.6 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Acute Poliomyelitis.—Weekly Notifications*. England and Wales.

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

†The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1960.

* See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3 million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 2½ million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Fog persisting, becoming thick and obscuring the sky in morning when associated with frost, then lifting slowly under the influence of freshening north-westerly winds. Cloudy for remainder of period with short period of rain and drizzle in mid-evening.

Monday—Cloudy until extreme end of period with continuous mainly moderate rain from early morning to late afternoon.

Tuesday—Mainly small amounts of cloud with frost early. Becoming completely clear late evening with frost, rapidly increasing cloud brought milder conditions at extreme end of period.

Wednesday—Cloudy with slight rain briefly early and generally mild.

Thursday—Cloudy and very mild throughout with long periods of rain in morning and evening.

Friday—Cloudy and mild with long periods of continuous rain, some heavy, until mid-evening. Vigorous frontal passage in late evening occasioned a rapid sky clearance and very sharp fall in temperature.

Saturday—Clear with moderate frost and fog patches early. Becoming cloudy during morning with moderate fog and continuous rain, turning to drizzle and ceasing mid-evening. Much smoke haze late.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1008.0 mbs. at beginning of week to 1014.7 mbs. at 17.45h. on 28th Nov. and fell to 989.9 mbs. at 21.45h. on 1st Dec., then rose to 1006.2 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower than the average."

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.
- Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)
- Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

SPECIAL NOTICE

Owing to the increase last October in the printed papers postage rates the annual subscription for the Registrar General's Weekly Return for England and Wales will be increased to £5 1s. 10d. from the 1st January, 1962. The price by post of individual copies of the Weekly Return is 1s. 11½d.

TABLE I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

Note: The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

* Includes influenzal pneumonia.

¶ The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

§ The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

There were no deaths from diphtheria.

Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1961.

* The Abbreviated List numbers are those set out on pages 381-2 of the International Classification of Diseases, 1955. The further breakdown indicated by small letters after the numbers is one used in the General Register Office; the corresponding numbers in the full List are shown in brackets after the description of the causes.

Note: Where no return has been received an asterisk * is inserted in the columns. Totals shown against the names of counties include any associated county boroughs. Letters in the "Others" column denote the diseases so lettered in the summary headings.

* See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3 million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 2½ million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Returns not received.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Clear with moderate frost and fog patches early. Becoming cloudy during morning with moderate fog and continuous rain, turning to drizzle and ceasing mid-evening. Much smoke haze late.

Monday—Overcast with periods of rain, briefly heavy, until early evening. Some breaks then occasioned scattered showers. Fresh south-westerly winds gusting to moderate gale.

Tuesday—Small amounts of cloud only with scattered showers until noon and exceptional visibility. Very vigorous depression passed through during morning giving marked pressure burst and drop in temperature. Frost late.

Wednesday—Clear and cold until mid-afternoon when passage of trough brought temporary cloudiness and moderate rain shower. Clear with moderate frost from early evening.

Thursday—Clear with hard frost early and continuing very cold with moderate fog in morning and evening. Increased cloud at extreme end of period slightly raised temperatures to near freezing point.

Friday—Continuing cloudy and cold with periods of rain or sleet in early afternoon and again in evening.

Saturday—Cloudy and milder with slight rain in morning and shallow fog patches early and late.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1006.2 mbs. at beginning of week to 990.6 mbs. at 08.40h. on 5th, rose to 1025.8 mbs. at 10.15h. on 7th, then fell to 1000.1 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables. Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

SPECIAL NOTICE

Owing to the increase last October in the printed papers postage rates the annual subscription for the Registrar General's Weekly Return for England and Wales will be increased to £5 1s. 10d. from the 1st January, 1962. The price by post of individual copies of the Weekly Return is 1s. 11½d.

TABLE I. Births, deaths (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

(a) England and Wales

(b) London A.C.

Note: The deaths may not be comparable with the notifications in all cases because, for some diseases (e.g., pneumonia), notification is believed to be incomplete.

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

†The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

‡The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

§There were no deaths from diphtheria.

¶Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1961.

* See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3 million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 2½ million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy and very mild with periods of rain or rain and drizzle.

Tuesday—Cloudy until mid-afternoon with isolated shower late morning. Afternoon clear and sunny but cloud again encroaching late.

Wednesday—Overcast with long periods of rain and drizzle, some heavy, until early afternoon and further intermittent outbreaks until mid-evening. Sky clearing late with rapid fall in temperature.

Thursday—Clear with frost at first. Some upper cloud during afternoon. Shallow fog patches forming early evening quickly merging into persistent general fog, thick and obscuring sky by late evening.

Friday—Dense fog obscuring the sky until late evening when suddenly lifting to leave cloudy and rather mild conditions.

Saturday—Cloudy early but slowly clearing throughout period to become cold and frosty by mid-evening.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1005.0 mbs. at beginning of week to 1032.8 mbs. at 23.15h. on 14th, fell to 1030.2 mbs. at 17.15h. on 15th and rose to 1034.6 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine in hours, minutes and seconds, and the average duration of bright sunshine in hours, minutes and seconds.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

SPECIAL NOTICE

Owing to the increase last October in the printed papers postage rates the annual subscription for the Registrar General's Weekly Return for England and Wales will be increased to £5 1s. 10d. from the 1st January, 1962. The price by post of individual copies of the Weekly Return is 1s. 11½d.

*Includes influenzal pneumonia.

The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of (a) all non-residents in the case of Belfast, and (b) those occurring in institutions in Dublin. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

There was one death from diphtheria: Kent.

Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June 1961.

Figures not available.

* See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3 million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 2½ million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Clear and very cold throughout with shallow fog patches and frost early and late.

Monday—Clear and very cold throughout with frost all day and fog until late afternoon and reforming in mid-evening.

Wednesday—Overcast with periods of drizzle until mid-afternoon. Fog persisted almost continuously until late afternoon and reformed under clearing skies in late evening. Frosty for a while late, soon melting as temperature remained above freezing.

Thursday—Overcast throughout with fog persisting, thick during afternoon, and periods of drizzle in morning and evening. Slightly milder with temperatures above freezing point all day.

Friday—Cloudy throughout period with slight intermittent drizzle during morning and early afternoon. Slight continuous drizzle during late evening.

Saturday—Cloudy with slight continuous drizzle at first, becoming fair by mid-morning with bright sunshine until early afternoon.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1034.8 mbs. at beginning of week to 1042.9 mbs. at 10.15h. on 18th, fell to 1013.2 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" sunshine on each day.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine in hours, and the figures in column 9 show the average duration of bright sunshine per hour.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definition of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "London A.C."=administrative county of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the Metropolitan Boroughs; "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer, Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

SPECIAL NOTICE

Owing to the increase last October in the printed papers postage rates the annual subscription for the Registrar General's Weekly Return for England and Wales will be increased to £5 1s. 10d. from the 1st January, 1962. The price by post of individual copies of the Weekly Return is 1s. 11½d.

* See Note (3).

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3 million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 2½ million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Monday—Bitterly cold with frost all day and moderate fog for a short time around noon. Variable patches of low cloud in nor'easterly airstream.

Thursday—Continuing bitterly cold with freezing conditions all day. Small amounts of cloud at times with fog persisting throughout.

Friday—Overcast with very long periods of sleet, often heavy, turning to rain but persisting. Fog persisted until late afternoon, thick for a while, and quickly reformed in early evening. Temporarily milder in light winds backing southerly.

Saturday—Quickly returning to extremely cold conditions with isolated showers and outbreaks of rain until noon. Variable cloud thereafter.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1012.7 mbs. at beginning of week to 1003.2 mbs. at 03.15h. on 26th, then rose to 1008.6 mbs. at 10.40h. on 27th, and fell to 980.6 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e. from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 80 years ended 1950, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1950, and the average humidity is similarly derived from records covering the years 1941-1950. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" sunshine on each day.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine above the average.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by the Owen's Smoke Filter is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12. When no values are shown in columns 10 and 11, the value in column 12 has been obtained from a Department of Scientific and Industrial Research Smoke Filter.
